Drift

Drift in. Meet someone. Drift out.
Nothing follows you.

THE FEELING WE BORROW FROM PURE

Anonymous, bold, of-the-moment. What makes it ours: a live public room, guests with no sign-up, and an open web page instead of an app store download.

01

The room remembers 20

One live main room. Only the last 20 lines exist; older ones fade out. You walk in mid-conversation, never into a wall of history.

02

A card, not an account

Name, age, one intent, an optional photo. Your card is you for tonight and dissolves the moment you close the tab.

03

Knock first

A first private message is a knock. A reply opens the door; silence is a polite no. Nobody wakes up to 40 unsolicited DMs.

04

Reveal

Photos stay blurred on your card. They sharpen only for people you have opened a door with.

05

Browse by intent

People here now, in rows: Talk, Flirt, Night owls, Vent, Something real. Pick a row, not an algorithm.

Principles First message in under 30 seconds · Ephemeral by default · Safe without friction · Discreet: your face is yours to hand out

Who are you tonight?

No sign-up. Your card disappears when you leave.

Stays blurred until you open a door with someone. Location data is stripped.
